This was a very nice paper submission. You developed your thoughts well, and addressed the prompt fully. Wonderful start to the semester! Your table of comparing/contrasting CLI vs IDE was a great touch.
FYI for future papers, I'll be looking for code snippets to show understanding of application. The rubric includes 10 points for integration and understanding of topics and the prompts say "This paper should qualify what you learned by experimenting with the technology." I'm not grading on this criteria for the initial paper, but I wanted to make you aware of it for future papers.				Emelyne Peck, Apr 24 at 8:29pm
Again, this paper was a perfect example of a great "A" paper! Just add some code to show understanding and application for future papers :)

Love the website you chose! Easy enough to understand, but enough going on to provide a great project for this week.
Your excel spreadsheet looked great- your attention to detail is on point!
ERD also looked great. Nice table relationships. Good structure and linking.
Nice work on this Daen!
